

TAEGU PREPARES FOR STREET-BY-STREET DEFENSE AS NORTHERN KOREAN RADIO CLAIMS CAPTURE OF FORTRESS CITY; SAND-BAGS READY AGAINST ANY SIEGE ASSAULTS

South Korean Police Patrol All Highways Leading Into the Inland Metropolis to Guard Against Red Infiltration — Allied Airmen Again Throng Over the Korean Sectors.

By Howard Handman
Far Eastern Director, INS
TOKYO, Sept. 7 — (INS) — Taegu prepared today for a street-by-street defense as the North Korean radio claimed the capture of the fortress city at the northwest corner of the allied beachhead.

A spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters quoted the Pyongyang radio as saying Taegu fell to the Reds today and that "Russian newspapermen" already were in the city to report the story.

The spokesman made no comment on the enemy broadcast. Latest front dispatches said Red patrols had stabbed to within six miles north of the keystone bastion as other enemy forces pressed against its east-rn flank.

Sand-bagged foxholes were prepared at Taegu's intersections for a possible street defense of the city against siege assaults. South Korean police patrolled all highways leading into the inland metropolis to guard against Red infiltrators.

A briefing officer at MacArthur's headquarters said allied airmen were again thronging over the Korean sectors Thursday, blasting and strafing communist forces moving into new onslaughts. The airmen were credited with bagging 41 Red tanks Wednesday, including 19 destroyed and 22 damaged.

The briefing officer said United Nations forces have made important withdrawals up to nearly 15 miles along the northern front stretching from the east coast below fallen Pohang inland to the Taegu area.

South Korean troops fell back under orders almost 15 miles down the eastern wing of the front to a line just north of Yongchon. There they were joined by U. S. 24th Division forces for a joint defense of Taegu's east flank.

Counter-attacking American and South Korean units, the briefing officer announced, cleared the 18-mile stretch of highway running northwest from Kyongju to Yongchon. The spokesman said allied military traffic was again moving all the way from Kyongju to Taegu.

Kyongju, a key junction controlling rail and highway arteries spread over Korea's southeast corner, lies 34 miles east of Taegu and 59 miles north of Pusan, chief allied entry port.

Yongchon, also a rail-highway center, is 19 miles east-north-east of Taegu and 25 miles inland from the Red-captured eastern port of Pohang.

A Thursday afternoon dispatch from Pusan quoted a South Korean army spokesman as saying one or two Red regiments were exploiting a half-mile deep enemy penetration of South Korean lines midway between Yongchon and Kyongju.

A few miles northward, 500 to 700 North Korean troops reportedly infiltrated west of Angangni in small and well-camouflaged groups along a secondary valley road leading west to Notchondong.

Angangni is eight miles west-southwest of Pohang and Notchondong lies three miles due north of Yongchon. U. S. Army staff officers in the sector warned that if the infiltrating Red units can combine their forces they could develop a

State Selective Board Calls for 948 More Men

HARRISBURG, Sept. 7 — (INS) — State Selective Service headquarters today called for induction of 948 men in the 19-25 age bracket from four Pennsylvania induction centers during mid-September.

The new call followed previous requests for more than 1400 men from local draft boards in September. The State's September quota is 3503.

The Erie station will supply 237 men from 12 local boards; Harrisburg, 300 men from 10 boards; Philadelphia, 303 men from 16 boards, and Wilkes-Barre, 108 men from 13 boards.

Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state director, said all inductees will be sent to the reception center at Fort Jackson, S. C., for processing.

Most boards now are calling men in the 22-year age bracket for pre-induction physical examinations, Gross said.

The number of delinquents has declined, he reported, and registrants who failed to report during the summer are notifying local boards of their status.

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Justice of the Peace William Wrigley, Edison, following a hearing, Monday, discharged Frank Smith, Doylestown, when he promised to enter the service and leave Bucks county.

The defendant, who was arrested Friday night by Doylestown Township Emergency Police, was committed to the county prison Saturday morning.

The complaint was lodged by a woman, whose home is several hundred feet off the highway, who said the defendant followed her while she was returning to her home from work and that he refused to leave her property after she had ordered him off.

Emergency policemen, who investigated and found the defendant on the property, were told by Smith that he was waiting for a bus. He couldn't explain why he was waiting for a bus several hundred feet from the highway.

A charge of disorderly conduct was lodged against him before Justice of the Peace Wrigley who committed him to prison.

The woman testified she ignored the defendant's remarks which were directed to her while he was following her home.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Moscow charged that the bomber shot down over the United Nations fleet off Korea was an unarmed Soviet plane on a training mission near Port Arthur when attacked by eleven United States fighters. The note, in which the Russians demanded reparations for three crew members, was refused by Ambassador Kirk in Moscow and returned by the State Department in Washington. Soviet representative Malik read it to the United Nations Security Council.

Russia's forty-fourth veto in the Council nullified the votes of nine nations to condemn North Korea for continued defiance of the United Nations and to ask all countries to withhold aid or encouragement to the Communist invaders. The Council, 8 to 2, defeated a Soviet motion for the recall of all "foreign troops" from Korea.

The British Trades Union Congress overwhelmingly supported United Nations action in Korea and Britain's rearmament program.

Official opposition in Rangoon caused a United States military mission surveying Southeast Asia's military needs to cancel a trip to Burma.

EVERYBODY EAGER TO GET MARRIED

One Hundred and Thirty-Five Couples Applied For Licenses

HAD ONE MAY QUEEN

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 7 — It seems nearly everybody wanted to get married last month.

Included among the 135 couples who applied for marriage licenses at the County Courthouse were a John L. Sullivan, a May Queen, one John Henry, and — although not the original — one real-life Napoleon.

Possibly prodded by the warming "cold war," an exceptionally large percentage of the brides and grooms were younger than is usually the case for August and September, which are most often reserved for the older couples.

Forty-eight couples needed parental consent for one or both persons entering into the marriage contract. Another 55 bridegrooms were between the ages of 21 and 25.

Most of the men were only from one to five years older than their chosen brides. Only one man planned to marry a girl ten years younger than himself, he being 30 and his wife-to-be, 20.

Thirteen brides were older than their mates, with one woman of 26 marrying a 19-year-old. One other woman had five years advantage over her husband, three had three years more, two had two years, and six were from a few months to a year older.

Only eight men and 13 women whose previous marriage ended in the divorce courts made another try at matrimony last month. One woman took her third husband in three years, having dropped a husband in 1949 and another this year.

Seven men and four women whose former mates had been removed by death applied again for marriage, with three of these taking divorcees as spouses. One man had had his former marriage annulled.

Bristol topped the list with the most applicants from a county

BANDIT GIVEN FIVE-YEAR TERM IN EASTERN "PEN"

Louis Tuccillo, Trenton, One of Group Holding Up Diner

RELEASED FROM JAIL

Tuccillo Recently Released From New Jersey State Prison

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 7 — One of the five masked bandits who held up the Riegelsville (Pa.) "611 Diner" at 5:30 on the morning of May 2, 1946, was sentenced yesterday to the Eastern State Penitentiary for a period of 5 to 10 years.

He is Louis Tuccillo, 30, of 447 Whittaker street, of Trenton, N. J., who was recently released on parole from the Trenton State Prison after serving 4 to 6 years for an offense committed in that jurisdiction. Other members of the hold-up quintet are serving time in other jurisdictions but will be returned to Bucks county at the completion of the sentence they are now undergoing.

Before sentence was pronounced by Judge Hiram H. Keller yesterday, the court was informed by Prison Warden Earl Handy that Tuccillo made an unsuccessful attempt to dig his way out of his cell in the County Prison on May 26 of this year.

The court was also informed that Tuccillo first was arrested in 1926 for holdup and robbery and has been in trouble ever since in Trenton, Bridgeton, N. J., and Toms River, N. J. Here in Bucks county he held up the "611 Diner," bound a waiter, James Kline, and robbed a patron, Edward Mangle, of Riegelsville, of $40. About $60 in diner money was also stolen.

"You have a record that shows clearly there is something wrong with you," Judge Keller commented. "The court takes into consideration that you served four years in New Jersey and have just been released."

James Kenneth Strathman, 22, of Upper Southampton Township, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller

FIRE DAMAGES HOTEL OF BRISTOL MAN

Continental Hotel, Yardley, Threatened With Destruction For A Time

JOHN KELLER OWNER

YARDLEY, Sept. 7 — Fire swept through the first floor taproom and stairway in the Continental Hotel here yesterday morning and did extensive damage. Half-dozen guests were routed from their beds and hurried to safety. It was about one o'clock.

Yardley fire fighters, on the scene minutes after the initial alarm, checked the blaze in good time. However, the fire raged so fiercely during its height that considerable damage was done to the first floor.

Volunteers from Newtown and Morrisville sped to the scene, but their services were not needed. Neither John Keller of Bristol, owner of the hotel, nor Joseph Settelin, operator of the place, was able to estimate the damage.

Police and firemen were searching the charred ruins today for a clue to the cause of the blaze.

The fire was discovered in a small storeroom back of the ground floor

43 SCHOOL DIST'S PROTEST METHOD, PEGGING SUBSIDY

Anthracite Dis'ts Complain Value Fixed on Coal Lands Is High

SCHEDULE HEARINGS

To Distribute Over 100 Million On Basis Of Board's Recommendation

By John Paget
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 7 — (INS) — Market values of assessed taxable real estate used by the Commonwealth to peg education subsidies for 1950-51 were protested today by 43 school districts.

The State Tax Equalization Board reported that 34 of the districts are located in the anthracite coal fields.

The others, including Philadelphia, are scattered across Pennsylvania.

Walter Kress, a Board member, said the anthracite districts have complained that the value fixed by the agency on coal lands is too high and thus will reduce the amount of money received from the Department of Public Instruction for the 1950-51 school year.

Hearings will be held in October and November by the Board to air

LOYAL G.O.P. MEMBERS IN FOR BIG TREAT

"Lichtenwalter Night" To Be Presented Tuesday Evening

EXPECT BIG CROWD

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 7 — Members of the Loyal Republican Club of Bucks County and their friends are in for another treat that is scheduled for next Tuesday night, Sept. 12th, at the club headquarters at Buckingham, when "Lichtenwalter Night" will be presented before an expected capacity crowd.

Always an outstanding meeting, this year's program according to the program committee, is going to be the "best yet." Congressman Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of the Bucks-Lehigh district, and his wife, have prepared the entire program for the Tuesday night affair.

"That an announcement alone should pack the Loyal Republican Club headquarters," State Senator Edward B. Watson said today. "We do not have the particulars but there is a real treat in store for all who attend."

This will be the opening meeting of the 1950 Fall programs of the club and will also start off the Fall political campaign. This will probably be Congressman Lichtenwalter's last appearance before the club as Representative in Congress from the Bucks-Lehigh district, for he has announced his retirement from that office to enter private business.

With more than 1,000 new Republicans added to the official registration in Bucks county by the traveling registrars, interest in the program

Find A "Register Of Pupils" Dated 1863-65

An old "register of pupils," in use in the Bristol public schools from 1863 to 1865, was found among the effects of the late Doron Green, who for many years served as president of the school board. The book was turned over by Mrs. Green to Paul V. Forster, secretary of the Bristol board, who in turn placed it in the custody of Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of schools. It is planned to preserve this historical record.

Some interesting notations were made in the record, such as the death of President Lincoln, April 14, 1864; and his funeral on April 19, of that year. Another notation, under date of June 20, 1863, "exceedingly warm, find the afternoon too warm for teaching. (Signed) Ada B. Nelson."

Parents Advised Pfc. John P. Holden Met Death On July 16th

LISTED AS MISSING

A young Bristol man, who had previously been reported missing in Korea, met death in action in that country on July 16th, according to a telegram received by his parents today. The one whose life came to an end at the age of 21 years is Pfc. John P. Holden, son of Thomas and Grace Holden, 1033 Chestnut street.

It was on August 22nd that the Holdens received word that John was missing in action as of July 16th, and today the information received is that he met his death on the 16th of July.

Holden, who enlisted in the army on July 28, 1948, had been overseas for 18 months. He and a buddy, Attilio Cauti, who were employed by Hunter Mfg. Co., enlisted at the same time, and went overseas with Company A, 19th Infantry Regiment.

The last letter received by the Holdens family from John was dated June 12th. The young man was a member of Fifth Ward Sporting Club, and played basketball with Bristol Youth League.

His survivors, in addition to his parents, are the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Joseph Gersch, Grace, Joan, "Betty" Ann, Thomas, William and Walter Holden, all of Bristol.

FARMERS BANK TO BUILD AN ADDITION TO BANKING HOUSE

Will Remodel Present Structure To Conform To Addition

A 56-FOOT EXTENSION

Every Facility of Modern Banking House To Be Incorporated

With the signing of a contract between officers of the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County and the firm of Frank V. Warren, Inc., of Philadelphia, the way was paved for erection of an addition to Bristol's oldest banking house which will more than double the capacity of the banking firm's structure on Radcliffe street.

Having felt the need for expansion for a long time, banking house officials have taken the initial step, which will give to residents of Bristol and lower Bucks County an improved and modernized banking institution — a far cry from the meagre start the bank had on the banks of the Neshaminy Creek at Hulmeville in 1814.

The banking structure now measures 40x40 feet, and includes three stories. Upon completion of the remodeling and addition, it will cover a space 96x40 feet, the greater length being along Radcliffe street. The 56-foot extension is to be on the western side.

"The appearance of the front of the building is to be retained insofar as possible," stated a spokesman for the bank today. "The four wooden columns, which have been so much a part of the bank as far as appearance is concerned, are to be retained." These pillars, however, are to be moved to the center of the structure, once the addition is built. The addition will extend from the front of the present building, 40 feet back toward the river, to make it the length of the present structure.

Material to be used in the new portion is hollow tile, with plaster finish. The present structure is stone with plaster facing.

There are some slight changes called for in the existing building front. The doorway will be re-located in the center of the 96-foot expanse. This will then permit closing of the present doorway, that portion being transformed into a full-length window, similar to the others at the front of the bank. The portico will be similar to the present one, once the pillars are moved. The two western-most pillars will remain approximately in their present position, the other two (now to the east) being changed to the far side of the relocated portico. Over the doorway there will be a gold-finished nameplate, bearing the words "Farmers National Bank of Bucks County."

The front doors will be bronze. Two additional doors will be available for use of the public, one at the side of the present building, and one at the side of the new wing. Patrons may enter any one of the trio of doors from the sidewalk level.

The windows which will be installed at the front of the new wing will match the present ones, the result being three, ground-length windows on each side of the main entrance, first floor.

THEY ALL DO IT

One disadvantage of government operation, including the direction of a war, is that the bureaucrats are engaged in a continuous battle over authority.
They are doing that in Washington now. Everybody is trying to get into the act to handle the various phases of the defense and preparedness programs.

Heads of departments are jealous of the allocation of authority.
They not only want the power that goes with authority; they also want new functions for their departments and bureaus so they can retain all their employees and add more if possible. The pay rate for many jobholders in Washington is graduated according to how many employees are attached to a bureau.

This situation can play hob with efficiency and has done so.
There hasn't been a surplus of efficiency in Washington in the past, as the blunders contributing to the nation's present dilemmas disclose. There should be a method to ascertain what a department head can do and to assign him to the task for which he is best fitted. But politics and favoritism often are the determining factors.

But it is doubtful if inefficiency and bureaucratic politics can be weeded out of any government.
Much nonsense constantly finds tongue to the effect that the government should seize this and that power, and citizens should abandon liberties, "for the duration."
The implication is that a dictatorship is more efficient than a free enterprise system.

Yet when Hitler's regime crumbled it was revealed that many of his trusted lieutenants had blundered seriously, and Hitler himself bungled in his decisions on numerous occasions.
When the Moscow dictatorship finally falls, it will be found that the errors which have been committed are as grave as any situation Washington ever thumbed.

WAR COMFORTS

Americans take their standard of living with them wherever they go, even to the fighting fronts.
The American soldier carries with him more gadgets, better food and clothing than any other combat man.

Just now the government is engaged in buying 30,000,000 packages of new rations for the forces in Korea and those in training in this country. Their contents are a great improvement over the K and C rations of World War II.

A typical ration, designed to feed five men one day, comes in a packet of 27 pounds and includes bacon, beef and gravy, ham, beef roast, pork sausage links, numerous vegetables and several kinds of fruits. There are candies and chewing gum as well as cigarettes.

Another type, designed for men in an attack where they must travel light, has tablets which, dropped in water, make heat which warms the food. Plastic spoons to be discarded after using are included.

43 School Dis'ts Protest Method, Pegging Subsidy

The alleged inequalities and thus pave the way for final certification in December.

The Department will distribute more than 100 million dollars on the basis of the Tax Board's recommendations. Maximum payments will amount to $3300 per teaching unit, Kress said.

The Board's report is designed to reduce payments to districts with high market values but does not conflict with assessed valuations made for local tax purposes.
The so-called poorer districts stand to benefit under the program.

Theoretically, districts receiving reduced State subsidies can take advantage of the "true" market values established to hike local taxes for education.

The Board pointed out that 44 protests were filed prior to the August 31 deadline but that Perry Township in Jefferson County withdrew its objections. Last year, 72 districts protested.

The Tax Equalization Law allows objections whenever directors of any district believe that the amount of subsidy which would ac-cure under the tax report will be "unduly affected" by the market value placed by the Board on real estate within the district.

Chairman John J. O'Neill said the protests showed a "misunderstanding" of the intent of the subsidy program.

He pointed out that prior to the Tax Board's report on true market values, districts used local assessed valuations.

"The market value of real estate certified by the Equalization Board has directed attention to the lack of uniformity in assessed valuations," O'Neill said. "Local assessed valuations are being carefully scrutinized by local officials and taxpayers for a comparison as to uniformity and equitability between properties and between districts within a county."

"Many of the local subdivisions have sponsored campaigns for uniform and equalized assessments within their districts and county-wide. There is evidence of a Statewide interest for a revision and equalization of the local assessed valuations to ensure an equitable distribution of the tax required for the support of local governments."

gheny County; Ford City Borough

Bad Practice in Divorce Cases

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

WHEN I was a boy on the farm I noticed that some farmers having a cat they didn't wish to keep, would drive with it several miles from home and leave this cat by the roadside near some farm-house, hoping the cat might find a home there. This procedure seemed to save the conscience of the original owners of the cat. But what a cowardly mean thing to do!

Some judges seem to practice somewhat similar cowardice when, on finding some person brought before them to be a kind of social nuisance, they will let him go free if he stays beyond the city or county limits.

Cowardly Procedure

Usually, also, it has seemed to me an equally cowardly procedure when a judge of the court is issuing a divorce decree will assign a child to the custody of one of the divorcees with the proviso that this child shall spend a certain number of hours or days with the other divorced parent. The judge seems to consider this an easy way out for him. He hardly considers the welfare of the child. Granted that if the child is over twelve or fourteen there might be some cases in which such divided custody might be wise. It rarely can be wholesome for the younger child.

When the child assigned to the custody of one of the divorced parents is assigned with the proviso that he shall spend part of his time with the other parent, this other parent and his or her own spouse and relatives are practically certain to tug at the innocent child's heartstrings and to poison his mind and heart against the parent to whom he is assigned, and vice versa.

Feels Insecure

As a result the child may be greatly confused and feel very insecure. He will find it harder to cooperate with the parent to whose custody he was assigned by the court, and if this parent remarries, the step-parent may find it very difficult to bring up this child well. The step-mother of a boy, seven years old, writes: "His own mother, who is remarried, gets him seven hours a week. He tells us that they say he doesn't have to do what we tell him to. He doesn't mind or pay attention at home or school. We're going to try and have his visitation with his mother cut to once or twice a month. Yet he tells us he would rather live with us than with his mother. Have you any suggestions?"

Parents considering divorce, who really love their own children, will give serious thought to the child's welfare and happiness following the divorce, not to mention the heartaches this child must endure from the divorce proceedings and the unhappy parent-parent relationship leading up thereto. Better still, they will each try harder to get along well together.

Before considering divorce, each parent should resolve that if he or she lost the custody of the child through the divorce decree, he or she would best prove genuine love of this child by helping him gradually lose his affection for this parent. Certainly, this parent would avoid saying or doing anything to cause the child to be unhappy with the other parent or with the step-parent, hard as such a course might be.

Mrs. Marie Tregl spent the holidays visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tregl, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Coyne and son Timothy, Jr., have returned home from a 1400 mile motor trip through New York state and parts of Canada. The places of interest visited were: Watkins Glen, Finger Lakes, Thousand Islands and Niagara Falls. On the return trip, the Coyne family visited James Coyne, brother of Mr. Coyne, at Ashland.

James Edward, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sperling, was christened on Sunday in Eddington Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Arthur Sargis officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuecht entertained at a picnic and "doggie" roast, Sunday. Those attending: Mr. and Mrs. Michael Agundis and children, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Horner and family, Burlington, N. J.; Mrs. Lucy Moffo and son John, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pappaterra and children, Philadelphia; Miss Teresa Grant, Mr. and Mrs. John Dea, Sr., Croydon.

Christmas cards and stationery can be purchased by the public contacting any member of the auxiliary. A drive to gain new members is now in progress.

stairway by a guest returning to the hotel. He gave the alarm. Other guests on the upper floor ran to safety.

The Continental Hotel burned to the ground in 1875. The following year it was rebuilt. The hotel's history goes back a lot further than 1875, however. It was a particularly busy spot prior to the Civil War when slaves fleeing the South were given shelter there.

Save Time -- Save Work with an AUTOMATIC BARN CLEANER

TIME IS MONEY — especially in farming. That's why so many dairymen are installing automatic barn-gutter cleaners. Manure is carried out of the barn and dumped into a spreader in a matter of minutes.

The above photograph shows the outside conveyor of a barn cleaner on a farm near Matboro. Like others in use throughout the country, it is proving to be a real time-and-labor saver.

yesterday to a charge of wantonly pointing a shotgun at his aunt, Mrs. Ida Hause, and two other women, on July 25 this year, following an argument over some gasoline, with his cousin, Richard Hause, 34.

After hearing the testimony at some length, Judge Keller directed that Strathman be admitted to the State Hospital at Norristown for a complete mental checkup for a period of three months, and continued the case.

Witnesses testified that young Strathman had a very bad temper at times.

Clair Gross, 706 West Broad street, Quakertown, who has been summoned with orders to report for Navy duty on Sept. 13, as a radio operator, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Keller to a charge of operating an automobile after his license had been revoked for one year for using his car in the commission of the theft of gasoline.

Gross was arrested by State Trooper Christman, of the Quakertown sub-station on County Line road, at Naceville on Aug. 2.

The court imposed a fine of $100 and costs, with no jail sentence so as not to hamper his chances of returning to the Navy in which he had previously served.

By agreement of the interested parties Judge Keller made the following orders yesterday in desertion and non-support cases:

That Warren Fryling, Croydon, pay $18 per week toward the support of his three children; that John Alexander, W. U. Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, pay $67.50 per month for the support of a three-year-old child; that Edward Hanson, Langhorne, pay $14 a week toward the support of his two children; and that Frank Largent, Willow Grove, pay $13 a week toward the support of two children.

The first bookie in Doylestown to appear in criminal court in many years pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Keller to seven counts of gambling. He is Theodore (Ted) DuBois, of 124 North Main street, Doylestown, a barber. He was given a suspended prison sentence of six months and fined $500 and costs, and placed on probation for one year with order to cease the placing of horse race bets.

DuBois' barbershop was raided by State and local police last June when some bookie records were seized, together with a small amount of money.

District Attorney Willard S. Curtin asked that a prison sentence be imposed because the "high ups" would pay the fine anyway and the little fellow would continue on to take bets.

Judge Keller, however, imposed the suspended sentence and a fine. DuBois has been a resident of Doylestown for a number of years.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

St. Mary's Hall

BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 7.—St. Mary's Hall has been particularly fortunate in securing for its organist and choir director, for the forthcoming school year, Mrs. Vanita A. Smith of Queen's Village, Long Island, whose daughter will also enter St. Mary's this Fall as a member of the Junior Class. Mrs. Smith is well known in the Metropolitan area of New York as a skilled musician and has been organist and choir director of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, in Queen's Village, for fifteen years. She has also served as Youth Director for the Diocese of Long Island, is a member of the American Guild of Organists and holds the degree of Licentiate from Trinity College, London. She has devoted much time to the study of Liturgical choir music, plainsong and Anglican.

In addition to her duties in connection with the Chapel music she will teach organ, piano, theory of music, harmony and music history. Her addition to St. Mary's faculty promises many beautiful choral services for Sunday Evensong, which should attract music lovers from Burlington and nearby towns.

Due to the fact that some members of last year's faculty resigned to be married, or to carry on further study for additional degrees, there will be several new names, in addition to Mrs. Smith, on the faculty roster. Among these are Miss Lois Marie Kelso, a graduate of the University of Michigan, teaching English; Mademoiselle Denyse Thauvroun, graduate of the Sorbonne, Paris and the University of Madrid, French and Spanish; Alice Jigarjian, Syracuse University, Piano; Miss Joyce Cramer, graduate of Madison College, Va., with post graduate study at Laval University, Quebec, Canada, Art and History; Miss Elizabeth Rouner, graduate of Goucher College, History; and Miss Leota Nevil, graduate of Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Pa., Science.

One of the courses inaugurated last year was dressmaking and sewing taught by Mrs. Lucia D. Gleason of Lexington, Virginia. This year the course is an elective one with credits in the three Upper Classes, and should prove an attractive course to many students. Mrs. Gleason, who returns to St. Mary's to carry on the work she began last year, is a graduate of the Traphagen School of Fashion in New York City and has been doing some additional study at that institution this summer.

FRANKLIN WINS OVER FIREMEN BY SCORE OF 3 TO 2

Franklin A. C. won its quarter-final game of the Bristol Softball League, nosing out Fire Company, No. 1, 3-2, last evening on Memorial Park field. The defeat eliminated the firemen from the playoffs.

The entire three Franklin runs were unearned while one of the two Fire Company's tallies was earned.

Tony Cappello was the winning hurler. He pitched superbly in allowing the fire-fighters but three hits. Two of these blows came in the fourth when the losers scored both markers. Cappello retired the last ten batters in order.

"Eddie" Kornichuck toed the mound for the smoke-eaters, giving up six hits. Kornichuck walked three batters, one of these accounting for the winning run.

Franklin scored a run in the first on a hit by Oriola, a wild pitch, and an error. The second run was counted after two were out in the second when Gene Barbetta singled and scored when Pete Caputa erred on Gus Centonze's single. The third and winning run was scored in the next frame. Cappello walked, advanced on a fly, moved up on a hit and scored on an error.

Both firemen's runs came in the fourth. Alex Dixon singled to center. Harvey Cochran hit safely to the shortfield. Caputa moved them along with a sacrifice. Leo Lasprella's fly to center scored Dixon. Cochran crossed the plate on an error.

Training School Is Planned By Churches

"The Life of Jesus," taught by the Rev. J. Laurance Carr, Newtown Methodist Church; "A Brief Survey of the Old Testament," taught by the Rev. Harold J. Shut, Churchville Reformed Church; "The Life and Work of Paul," taught by the Rev. Edward H. Stady, Newtown First Baptist Church; "The Christian Bases of World Order," taught by the Rev. Edmund T. Sills, president of Newtown Council of Churches and Meetings, and rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church; "How to Teach in the Church School" will be taught by a public school teacher, yet to be chosen. The registrar is Henry C. Shriver, Edgboro.

Enrollments are being received for a small fee. The treasurer is Mrs. Ann Johnson, South State street, who is also chairman of the committee on text books. The chairman of the committee on religious education is Mrs. John Bennett, Sterling street.

Farmers Bank To Build Addition To Banking House

each side of the lobby center. At either end of this teller window expanse will be another window for additional tellers during rush hours. Thus 12 such windows will be available to the banking public during busy periods.

The extensive plans, which have been given considerable study, call for installation of a plexiglas ceiling on the first floor, with fluorescent lights shining through. The colonial type chandeliers which are now in the main lobby are to be moved to the office quarters.

A low railing will divide the lobby from the offices immediately back of the center of the lobby. Individuals entering the front door will have a view clear through the building to the river, due to the fact the offices at the rear of the lobby will be enclosed with glass.

The existing, winding staircase is to remain at one end of the lobby.

The counters throughout the banking building are to be what are termed "friendly counters," being built low and in such a manner that conversation can easily be carried on between the bank employees and the patrons.

Consultation rooms will appear on either side of the office space. A large private conference room is to be provided for on the western side of the structure.

A safety deposit section will be set up, where in five private booths individuals may examine the contents of their safety deposit boxes. The vault space is to be approximately doubled, it is stated; and the safety of their valuables is assured patrons as the vault is built into the ground, "and would remain standing in case the building was destroyed," officials add. There is a vault on each floor, these being built one above the other.

On the street floor (western portion of the new building, and to the rear) will be provided a work space to house pieces of banking machinery.

The bookkeeping department will remain on the second floor, but with the addition there will be expansion space, the result being double what it is at present. Lavatories will also remain on the second floor. Women's and men's rest rooms will be provided in addition.

With more space in the basement, a boiler, storage and fan rooms will be included. There will also be a large unassigned space on that level.

The porch at the river-side will be retained, but plans call for its removal to the center of the building. This porch is in two tiers, one at each of two stories.

While the 56x10 addition is being erected, banking activities will be carried on as at present in the existing building. With completion of the new section, banking activities will be moved to the new portion until renovations are completed in the present section.

Taegu Prepares For Street-by-Street Defense

threat to the new allied line and to Taegu from the rear.

Gen. MacArthur announced in a Thursday mid-afternoon communication that United Nations counterattacks against the enemy salient in the Pohang-Angang sector succeeded in regaining some lost ground. The bulletin said new Red attacks in the area were repulsed.

The American - South Korean counter-blows eliminated a series of Red roadblocks along the Kyongju-Yongchon highway which had been under heavy enemy artillery fire. This road stretch forms a vital part of Taegu's second most important rail-highway route to Pusan.

Enemy threats to the main 55-mile Pusan-Taegu rail-highway lifeline were being disposed of some 22 to 28 miles southwest of Taegu in the Changyong-Yongsan sector of the lower Nakdong river bend.

There, U. S. Marines and Second

Army Division troops thrust back to the Nakdong's east bank at several points in a drive to wipe out a Red cross-river bulge which at one time reached within 12 miles west of the Pusan-Taegu supply artery.

Along the south wing of the blazing 120-mile front, U. S. 25th Division troops hurled back three more Red attacks Wednesday night and early Thursday. One of the Division's units which had been isolated was brought back into contact with its parent force when an American relief column smashed through a Red wing.

ERECT "STOP" SIGNAL, FALLS INTERSECTION

Placed High Enough For Motorists To See From Far Side of Incline

PARENTS' PETITION

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 7 — Petitions signed by parents anxious for the safety of their children crossing the Lincoln highway here enroute to and from school, have resulted in the placing of a "stop" signal at the intersection of the Lincoln highway and Main street.

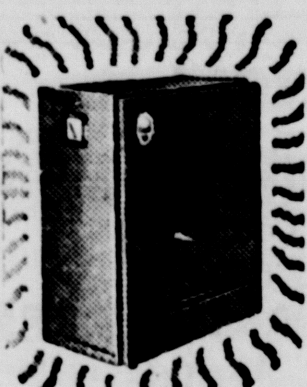

Workmen of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department are engaged in erecting the lights high enough above the street so that motorists approaching from both sides of the inclined highway can see them in time to come to a stop.

Last April, irate parents of students in the Pennsbury school district petitioned the Pennsbury

Parent-Teacher Association to either have a light installed at the intersection or to secure police protection during school hours.

The PTA contacted state police at Langhorne, who referred it to the Pennsbury joint school board. The local board investigated the matter and found that, according to this term's bus schedule, it would be necessary for school buses to cross back and forth at the intersection about 32 times a day. Since there is no other adequate crossing available, and it could not possibly reroute the buses, the board sought aid from the state and the Falls township supervisors. Falls township will pay $1,500 as its part of the project.

WEST WILL HEAD CIVILIAN DEFENSE

David E. West Has Been Named By Burgess Of Morrisville

TO ORGANIZE GROUP

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 7 — The civilian defense agency of Morrisville will be headed by David E. West, according to an announcement made by Burgess William Burgess, Jr.

West's appointment followed a conference in Doylestown with Judge Hiram Keller, who heads the Bucks county defense organization. West will begin immediately to organize the local defense agency. He will appoint a deputy director, an executive director, and a 14-man steering committee.

Under state law, eight members of the steering committee will be known as section chiefs and will be charged with organizing the various defense activities. Six other members of the local agency will co-ordinate volunteer work of veterans and civic groups.

The Morrisville defense agency will work under the supervision of the Bucks County Defense Council, whose deputy co-ordinator is Col. A. M. Heritage. The county organization, in turn, works under the direction of the state civil defense office.

West, who lives at 611 N. Lafayette street, was an artillery captain during World War II.

JUDGES PORTRAITS GETTING "TOUCH-UP"

Task Devolves Upon Dr.
Arthur Edwin Bye, of Holicong

CLEAN COURT HOUSE

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 7—Dr. Arthur Edwin Bye, of Holicong, is repairing the frames and touching up the canvases of Bucks county's 15 oil portraits of Judges, prized and unique county possessions.

The 15 Judges' portraits, which hang in the Court House in Court Room No. 1 will be re-hung as soon as Dr. Bye is finished with them.

About 60 gallons of paint have been used in giving the canvas walls a first and second coat. The four-foot strip between the canvas walls and the wooden ceiling has been painted a rich terra cotta. Between 350 and 400 feet of wooden molding was used to decorate the line between the canvas walls and the edge of the terra cotta band.

Bucks county taxpayers were saved hundreds of dollars in wages—painters getting from $1.50 to $2 an hour—because a detail of four inmates from the County Prison have been working nearly two weeks on the job. Under the direction of Prison Guard A. M. Higginbotham, the detail also rubbed the old-fashioned benches and all walnut furniture and woodwork with a lemon-oil polish.

Two county employes, Charles A. Darrah and Roland Felix, under the supervision of Albert Darrah, bridge superintendent, had to loosen the canvas and stretch it taut in order to get the wrinkles out of it. The braid which was between the large stretches of canvas had to be removed also and pulled tightly. Under the direction of James Plummer, the carpet will be shampooed, the jury box arranged and everything in readiness for miscellaneous Civil Court on Tuesday.

ROBERTS HAS HAD HIS FULL SHARE OF WRECKS IN RACES

Everything happens to Glenn Fireball Roberts, the former University of Florida student who drives for Roy Jones of Haddonfield, N. J., in the stock car races.

Roberts, one of the top Southern entries for the 200-mile Grand National Circuit race Bill France is presenting at the Langhorne speedway Sunday afternoon, had his share of wrecks during the past two seasons, was recently united in wedlock, has won a couple recent features and apparently is headed for his greatest season in stock car racing.

Two years ago, Roberts was greeted with a kiss from a vivacious blonde just before a race. The result: Roberts wrecked his car. Twice after that in his next two appearances, the same little blonde dashed out to kiss Roberts just before the feature. And twice Roberts wrecked his car. Roberts decided then that there would be no more kissing before races.

Now, at the ripe age of 23, Roberts is a married man. And even on his wedding night things happened to Roberts. The Florida speedster was leading a feature at Charlotte, N. C., for 18 laps of a 25-lap feature when his motor blew up—but Roberts proceeded to get married that night.

Things have been different since that time. Roberts won the 100-mile Grand National Circuit race at Oconeechee speedway in North Carolina several weeks ago, then came back to finish second a week later in another new model car classic at Hamburg, N. Y.

But last week it was something different for Roberts. The "Fireball" was engaged in a close battle with several other stars in the 50-lap championship modified race at Charlotte when suddenly his pocketbook slipped from his coveralls, bounced through the window and scattered $150.00 in bills over the backstretch of the half-mile track. Roberts, thinking of his pocketbook, hustled through the traffic to finish the race, apparently forgetting just where he stood in the race. But the result was that the Florida star had rocketed through the traffic at such a terrific pace that he won the race.

And later "Fireball" recovered $110.00 of his lost money. So "Fireball" will be one of the drivers to watch with his 1950 Olds 88 in Sunday's race at Langhorne. Anything can happen.
